12 Key Points to Remember:

1. Please read "Critical Information to Know Before Repairing your Hail Damaged Vehicle."
2. Your insurance company cannot pick the repair facility for you. It is your choice where and how to repair your vehicle.
3. You are not required to use the insurance company's preferred providers to repair your vehicle for any reason.
4. Once you choose a repair business, call your insurance and notify them of your choice.
5. Any repair work Guarantees or Warranties will be provided and backed by the repair business, not by your insurance company.
6. Filing a hail claim will not result in an increase in your premiums.
7. Always consider repairing your vehicle using Paintless Dent Removal first. When completed professionally, PDR yields the best repair available, retains the durable factory finish, and maintains the value of your vehicle. Nothing reduces the value of a vehicle more than having to repaint the factory finish!
8. Paintless Dent Removal is the preferred method of hail repair by nearly all insurance companies.
9. Even if the adjuster has figured repair by means of conventional auto body repair, consult a PDR specialist. Many times, PDR may still be successful allowing you all the benefits it has to offer. Only a PDR specialist will know what can and cannot be repaired successfully. Most auto body shops do not retain PDR professionals on staff so you may need to investigate a business specializing in Paintless Dent Removal.
10. If you do take your vehicle to an auto body shop, allow 1-2 weeks for repair. If by PDR, allow 1-3 days for repair.
11. After repair is completed, inspect your car thoroughly for quality of workmanship. If it is to your satisfaction, pay your deductible and get a copy of the warranty for your records.
